LORD CURZON'S COUNCIL.

Office.

LONDON, July 30. Lord Curzon of Kedleston, writing to the Westminster Gazette, develops the idea of forming an Imperial Council composed of Pro-Consuls.

The Defence Committee would also be strengthened immensely by the inclusion PURE NATURAL COWS WILK of a few men trained in Imperial questions. become the nucleus of an Imperial Council, comprising men like Lord Cromer and Lord Milner.

CHINESE ON PLANTATIONS.

Tobacco planters in Deli rely upon Chinese coolies, who, so far, have answered admirably. But steady and adequate supplies of them depend upon the whims of the Chinese Government, which may, at any time, restrict coolie emigration or put it under harmsing control. Under these circumstances, the planters are thinking of replacing them by Javanese labourers. In bygone years, Javanese were tried for this kind of work, but only half-heartedly, owing to the projudice in favour of Chinese. Now, however, a leading company has renewed the experiment with a determination to give it a fair trial. Under these conditions. Javanese labour has given satisfaction enough to admit of the experiment being continued.

THE RAILWAY IN YUNNAN.

H.E. Viceroy Hsi Liang, of the Yunkuei Provinces, wires to the Waiwupu protesting against the granting of any monetary compensation to the relatives of the Italian workman of the French Railway Company in Yunnau, who was killed in consequence of trouble with the natives at Mêngtze in the spring of 1906.

He contends, says the "N. C. Daily News," that the Italian's death was partially his own fault, as he ill-treated the native labourers under his control. It s also stated that, as there are many foreigners employed on the French railway, the matter will be taken as a prece-T. MATSUKI, Manager, Hongkong, | dent by other countries, if the deceased's family be indomnified.

> Thus H.E. requests the Foreign Office to reject the demand of the Italian Minister as far as indemnity is concerned, so as to avoid endless disputes in future over similar incidents.

H.E. Hsi is of opinion that such incidents cannot be prevented in view of the fierceness of foreign employees, chiefly French and Italians. Most of these are of the labouring class, and they have under them large numbers of Chinese labourers, some of whom enlisted from Chihli and others from far away provinces. The Viceroy adds that the Italian Consul at Mêngtze refuses to open negotiations with the Customs Taotai there, though he has been repeatedly requested to do so by the latter. The Consul bases his refusal on the ground that the case will be settled in Peking.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Counterfoiting would appear to be a profitable business in Singapore, judging from the number of mrests made on that charge, but there have several times been indications that the counterfeiting out fit discovered were simply plants gathered together and operated by informers, for the sake of the reward they might get in disclosing the whereabouts of the alleged bogus money factory .- "Straits Times."

THE BELFAST STRIKE.

Troops in Readiness.

London, August 1. The advent of the Cameron Highlanders and the de achment of the Middlesex Regiment has re-assured the public in Belfast. There are now over six thousand soldiers i in the city, and trains are being held in readiness in Dublin to convey more troops to Belfast.

The authorities believe, however, that additional reinforcements will not be required unless there is further disaffection amongst the Royal Irish Constabulary, which is not expected. -

KHARTOUM.

Away down on the edge of the world, on the outer burning limits of Libyas according to the cosmography of the uncients, stands a stately modern city in a desert-belt of sand. It is almost incredible that now in Africa's sterile wastes there glows, in vivid floral blossoms. in giant parterres, a monster semblance of the Union Jack-Symbol of liberty, progress, and enlightenment throughout the world. This vivid emblem of England is, according to a writer in a recent issue of "Cornhill," due to a happy inspiration of Lord Kitchener, the conqueror of the Khalifa. Khartoum to-day is a western city of open spaces and broad thoroughfares, ornamented by avenues of trees, and adorned with fine, massive, and handsome buildings. It is fitted with all the institutions which the march of progress demands - markets, banks, courts of justice, hotels, shops, villas, barracks, parade-grounds, shooting-ranges, gardens Thanks to Lork Kitchener, it has, also, a p university, dedicated to the memory of the great Gordon.

> "FRANCO-CHINESE ALLIANCE."

An Interesting Function.

Kersain Too much has been said about diplomatic insincerity, says the Paris correspondent of the "Standard." The aim of an Amhassador is said to be to further the interests of his own country by creating ties of friendship with the country in which he is; | Styx per annum on credit balances of $1,000 balances and accepts Fixed Deposits at the diplomatists have shown a decided areference for a third country when thinking Vigilant of marriage or retirement-the two most important considerations of a career. But Fürst 1 enough of this mistaken idea, for a Chinese diplomatist appointed to Paris has to-day Leipzig married a French bride. Could greater Luchs proof be given that China and France will Niobe not go to war for many years to come? Taku M. Se-Kong-Liao is Attaché at the Chinese Tiger Embassy; Mlle. Suzanne Aitken-now Teingta Mme. Liao—is the descendant of a Scotch family which has for many generations been established in Franco. The wedding, | Yesuvi which took place at the local town hall, did not provide the contrast between East Rio Lit and West which many hoped for. All the bridegroom's friends wore frock coats, of better cut, it was remarked, than those Bainbi worn by their Parisian neighbours, at the Barry ceremony, and only the bridegroom wore | Callao Chinese costume. This in itself was a sign | Chatta of a "rapprochement."

It would seem from the placards—copies of which have been laid before the Acting Viceroy at Canton-that the older literati are among those responsible for fomenting disorders and fanning into a flame the smouldering embers of rebellion. This is scarcely matter of marvel. The older literati find their occupation gone, Years of life have been spent in acquiring knowledge which is now deemed out of date and useless for the purposes and objects set forth under the ancient regime as the true goal of the devotee of literature. Money and health and time have alike been spent in vain. The ancient classics and histery may not have always been flowery path, but it led to the kind of promotion which the Chinese scholar deemed worth seeking-the emoluments due reward endeavour literary type of scholar is at this time of pire. The rumour that the Empress things continues the future looks bright Downger would retire and hand over for Great Britain even if she persists in the reins of Government to the Emperor adhering to her present fiscal policy. No doubt the opponents of preference will make the most of this wave of prosperity which is carrying Great Britain forward. They will ask where is the necessity for preference when the country is more prosperous now than it has even might be influenced by this specious argument. But those who look beneath I the Boxer trouble, it was proposed by the access of prosperity in which all countries are sharing alike proves nothing one way or another. America has just experienced-in fact is still experiencing There is nothing certain at present -even greater prosperity than Great Britain. Will the worshipper of Cob den attribute that prosperity to America's to "turn down" the Emperor, as they high protective tariff? They will not but in all fairness they must be consistent and admit that the prosperity of Great Britain is due to causes which are unaffected by fiscal policy. Preference is desirable, not only because it will create an ever increasing market for Great Britain's manufactures but because it will foster the Imperial idea. That is the real reason why the extreme Liberal are so bitterly opposed to the policy on July 31. Six workmen were killed and We have never faltered in our belief in Free Trade. Protective duties for protective purposes we have always opposed because we believe that any benefit to leave Hakodate for Otaru (Japan) toderived from them acts to the detriment day. The men-of-war are due at Nagasaki of the many and the advantage of the few. But duties deliberately imposed in order to assist inter-trade between the Mother Country and her lusty offspring meet with our fullest and most cordial approval. When the British elector is better educated we feel sure that he will likewise see that what may first sight seem a renunciation of principle is in reality only linking that principle to the Imperial idea. What we hope to see, in the course of a few years, is Free Trade within the Empire. Every product used by man is found in one part or the other of our great Emhe were possessed of the commonest of common sense, purchase these things from shops running in opposition those belonging to his sons? This is come of all the puzzling, perplexing perfect analogy. The information conveyed by telegram from Peking and published in another column regarding 'China's attention to the Consular service is interesting so far as Taotai Wen is concerned. He was a Queen's College student and made himself very popular while private secretary to Viceroy Shum at Canton. Since his departure from the South, he has been appointed, through the recommendation of the Viceroy, Commissioner to proceed to India for the investigation of the salt industry in that country. He, however, has not started on his mission, and evidently the Peking government recognises his ability and experience in matters diplomatic, since he is now summoned to the Capital,

The presence of smoke does not always necessarily suggest the presence of fire, but the repeated rumours that come from Peking-combined with the age of the Dowager Empress—seem to indicate on China New Year day came in special telegram from the Peking correspondent of our Chinese issue, the "Chinese Mail," some two weeks ago, but that Prince Pu Lun will eventually be placed on the Chinese Throne is not at all unlikely, as the Empress Dowager has been all along in favour of him. - Immediately, it may be remembered, upon the return of the Court from Hsianfu after Empress to make the change, and had it not been for the persistent refusal of Viceroy Liu Kwan Yi, the most influential Viceroy at that time, the change would no doubt have been effected. regarding the Dowager's successor but [C.M.] it is hardly likely that she will be able would say in America, without trouble.

THE SUSPECT IDENTIFIED.

Disappears at Shanghai.

A Reward Offered.

(From Our Correspondent). Shanghai, August 12.

The suspect has been definitely identified as as the man Adsetts who is described as a pugilist.

Adzetts loft the Tosa Maru at Woosung in company with a lady passenger at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 10th inst.

The two proceeded by train to Shanghai and drove in rickshas to the Hotel des Colonies, and afterwards disappeared

In the evening, however, Adzetts from Ngau. was seen in the Borlin Bar in Broad- plaintiff

He is still at large, but the police state that they have a clue and hope to arrest him soon.

A reward has been offered.

The fact that Adsetts has been recognised at Shanghai clears the way for the police. They have now a definite line to follow, and apparently the Shanghai force--who now have the running -will utilise every possible means to apprehend the murderer.

The statement in the telegram that Adsetts is a pugilist has been confirmed locally. A Manila man who knew him describes him as "a gambler and some what of a prize fighter.

He is said to be well known to a woman named Dixon, in 54 Kiangsi Road, Shanghai, and also to a number of other women of the unfortunate class who have lived in Tientsin and Hongkong.

The woman with whom he went ashore was undoubtedly the Miss Smith mentioned in Saturday's paper. She was of the demi-monde.

The victim, Gertrude Dayton, is said to have been a fine contralto singer, and, being divorced from her husband in Sai Fat's share. America, went on the stage at Koster and Biehl's theatre. Later she came to the East.

The local investigations that are continuously being pushed forward by the detective force gradually reveal the movements of the man Adsetts subsequent to the murder of Gertrude Dayton and the The river is about as lew now as it usually placing of her corpse in a trunk on board I is in January. There are showers every the Monteagle.

Short of money and desperate in an endeavour to flee the Colony Adsetts visited several steamers and endeavoured to purchase a passage, as a stowaway or as a passenger, with the jowellery stolen from the murdered woman. Already mentioned is the Hongkong Maru, and other steamers visited by the man are the Korea and the average one, hence there has been a great Chingta. The latter steamer having departed no details can be gleaned.

On the Korea he encountered one of the erew and told a tale and offered a sum that might have enlisted the sympathies of a certain class of mon, but failed on the Kores. Adsetts declared that he had got into trouble with the police and asked help section. Despite all ummer of protestations his way back to his home in Shiu-kwan. and appeals Adsetts could not effect his object and left the ship.

Apparently he was short of ready money and did not wish to risk pawning the jewellery locally until absolutely driven to do so by his failure to tempt anyone to accept it as payment, for a passage abroad. How he raised the money for his fare by the Tosa Maru has been shown. Under the name of Jones he pawned jewellery on the 6th instant.

All the telegrams received by the "China Mail" have been placed at the disposal of the police upon receipt, and have conveyed to them the only information they have had from Shanghai. The Shanghai police have not sent any wires down, probably holding back until 'an arrest has been offected.

As a pugilist Adsetts seems to be fairly notorious in Shanghai, and recently fought a match there. He is said to be a powerful man, and if cornered is likely to give trouble, especially if he is determined to Swimming.

On Saturday afternoon the Victoria Bay at 4 p.m. Recreation Club held a couple of swimming events at the bath, in the presence of quite number of spectators, all available positions being taken up. 'Mr John Rodger ncted as judge, Mr H. A. Lammert as starter and timekeeper, and Messrs T. C Gray and R. W. Pearson also assisted in managing the events.

TWO-LENGTHS HANDICAP.

The most important event was a two lengths handicap (66 yards) which was run off in heats, as follows:-

FIRST HEAT:-There were three starters, viz., F. da Roza (owes 6 seconds) J. W. Bains (owes 8 seconds) and A. V. Barros (owes 10 seconds). Roza led over the first length, but shortly after turning Bains scribed $150 to the partnership and lent showed out in front and won by over a yard in 60 seconds, Barros being third, a couple of yards behind Roza.

SECOND HEAT: The starters were :- S. Kingsbury (owes 6 seconds), A. H. Carroll (owes 8 seconds), and L. le Breton (owes 9 seconds). Making the most of his handicap two innings, five times not out, 2,075 runs, Kingsbury lead from start to finish and 203 highest innings, seven centuries, with won from le Breton by two seconds, The action was heard this morning at the the winner's time being 52 seconds. Four teams competed. Roza gained substantial lead for his team, by beating Souza, Remedios and Jephson home, but Ribeiro (for the second team) wiped some of the advantage, off. However, le Breton's team still led by a comfortable margin, which was increased by Chunyut. When the last man of the team went in he had a lead of almost three-quarters of a length over the last team (Barros') and won comfortably. Carroll swam a bad course and interfered with Bains, but the interference did not have any bearing upon the position of the winning team, though few days, yet not enough to break the Barros' team might possibly have got third or even second. The result was :-

T. Hayward, who carried out his bat for a well played 146 against the Gentlemen at Lord's on July 8, has scored seven centuries in Gentlemen and Players' matches. Four of them he has compiled at Lord's, the only match of this title nowadays officially recognised. They were: 1896,116 not out: 1900, 111; 1905, 123 not out; and 1907, 146 not out. The others Hayward has hit at the Oval; 1899, 134 not out; 1902, 177;

In the corresponding game last year the Surey crack scored 54 and 34, and his full record in Contimen we Players' matches is asfollows:-Twenty-four matches, fortyan average of 56.08.

Hayward has now completed his 1,000 runs for the season, and, thanks to his score yesterday, he again heads the batting table with an average of 49.42.

Prior to this, Major Pak Sungwhan, Commander of the First Battalion of the First "Shi-wi" Regiment, came back to the barracks within the same gate from the conference at General Hasegawa's residence and a little later was found dead in his room having committed suicide. This incident, apparently, gave a strong stimulus to his men who were already excited over the Army. The excitement soon spread to the neighbouring barracks, that is, the First Battalion of the Second Shi-wi Regiment, and these two battalions threatened to kill Saigon/Hongkong :- Owners and time- their two Japanese military instructors however, somehow managed to recent demand, decided to keep aloof in escape. TARING THE RECORDS.

Finger-Print Identification.

The finger-print identification system has been fully installed in the United States Army and Navy, and in the short period it has been in operation there already abundant evidence of its accuracy and efficiency. In the Navy the method is under the charge of the Bureau of Navigation, and in the Army it is under the Adjutant-General.

As regards the Army, the medical officers have charge of the duty of making and forwarding to Washington Headquarters the required records. The identification record taken consists of finger prints, a personal description of the soldier, together with his photograph, -The apparatus for taking the finger print consists, says the "Army and Navy Rogister," of a form holder, an ink plate, and the roller for sprending the ink on the plate, a small quantity of ink being squeez ed from the tube and carefully rolled into a thin even film on the plate. There are two kinds of impressions-plain and rolled. A plain impression is obtained by pressing the bulb of the finger, with the plane o the nail parallel to the plane of the plate, on the inked plate, and then on the thority, sends us the following particulars of pression is obtained by placing the side of of the nail at right angles to the plane of the plate, and rolling the finger over from one side to the other until the plane of the nail, is again at right angles to the plane of the plate, but with the bulb surface of the finger facing in the opposite direction, thus inking the surface of the fluger, and then rolling the finger over the paper in a clear impression of the ridges on the surface of the finger. In taking the impressions the operator is required to manipulate the hands of the subject, who must not add to the pressure on the ink plate or on the paper. The rolled impressions are first taken and then the plain impressions, the former being of each finger on both hands, and the latter of all the fingers on the right hand at one time, and then the fingers of the left hand. If any finger is missing or is injured or deformed so that no impression can be Rider mains in operation in the Centra obtained, the place for that finger is left

After the impressions have been taken, the personal description form is filled up, including an outline figure card, which identification marks. The soldier then signs his name in a place provided for that purpose, and makes a plain impression of the index finger of the right hand in The photographic record consists of two bust pictures, one a full front view and the other exactly in profile. In order to secure uniformity of lighting, and consequently uniform negatives from all garrisons, flashlight illumination has been adopted for identification negatives, except at depôte where other means may by employed. No focussing is required of the camera, which is secured to its place, and the chair is so placed as to give the necessary position and distance. Before the picture showing the full front view is taken the name of the sitter, his rank, and organisation, or statement of his being an unas-

black state of coated cardboard (12 by 6 inches), and hung around his neck so that the top of the slate is about on a line with The method is a complete success, and tion in cases which could not otherwise be in the Adjutant-General's office and in the finger prints and filing them away in such a manner that duplicate records will come can be further verified by the photographic record of the subject.

JAPANESE PREPAREDNESS.

Espionage of the practical variety has been reduced by the Japanese to a fine art. Their Intelligence Department is, without doubt, highly effective, and it has been rendered so by the exercise of Oriental cunning and a stern patriotism. No one was very much surprised to find tha THE Chartered Steamship Islok, was very much surprised to find that having arrived, Consignees of Cargo a Japanese spy had been arrested while are hereby informed that their Goods are making a plan of the defences of San being landed at their risk into the hazardous and/or extra hazardous Godowns of Diego. JAPAN AND KOREA.

Opinion of the "Times.'

LONDON, July 28. The "Times," in some comments on the Korean-Japanese Treaty, says that, as a result of the Treaty signed in 1904, Korea was fated to arrive at its present position sooner or later. The "Times" does not consider that Japan's task in Korea can be compared with that of the British in Egypt. One of Japan's great difficulties is to deal with the enmity of the Koreans, which must be overcome at all costs. Japan's ability to secure success in a colonising enterprise is still under test. She is, however, now in a position to do what she wishes, and consequently her responsibilities are much heavier, as the attitude she has taken up

Hongkong Tides.

The tide table given below has be compiled at the Nautical Almanac Off in London from the result of the analy M. Arthur H. Silver- of observations taken by means of an a tomatic tide-recording machine in the W ter Police Basin at Teim Sha Teul duri the years 1887-8-9. . The zero of the table corresponds w the zero of the soundings in the Admiral Charts which has been found to be 4 fe 3 inches below mean son level. To obtain the depth of water on the t gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lame Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches the height given in the table.
